SECTION – A*(READING)

(1 – 9) : Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow :

A priest, of a famous temple on a high hill in Assam was widely known and respected to be a great scholar. When he was on his death-bed, he called the trustee of the temple and told him to select and appoint only a ‘human being’ as his successor.

After his death, a day was set for the selection of the new priest. On the scheduled day, starting at dawn, the aspirants started trekking the steep and torturous climb to the temple. As the route to the temple was difficult; full of thorns and stones, many aspirants got minor cuts and bruises on their feet and hands.

After breakfast, the selection process started. The trustee asked all the aspirants to recite difficult ‘Shlokas’ or verses from the sacred texts. He explained them various procedures of priesthood. By afternoon, as the selection process was about to end, one young man walked slowly into the temple. The trustee noticed him and asked, “Young man, you are very late. What took you so long ? Why are your clothes torn ? Why are your feet and hands bleeding badly ?”

The young man replied, “I know, Sir, I am late and so I cannot participate. But please let me rest a while and let my wounds be treated. Then I will go back.”

But the trustee was curious. He asked again, “But how did you get hurt so badly, did you follow the same route as the others ?”

“Yes, Sir, I did”, replied the young man, “But I thought, I must remove all the thorns and sharp stones from the path so that when people come to pray in this temple, they must not get hurt. That is why I got late and hurt myself badly. I apologize for the delay and it will not be fair to the others if I participated.”

The trustee heard him intently, smiled and said, “Congratulations ! You have been chosen. You are a true ‘human being’ to be the successor of our holy priest.”

This statement infuriated the other participants. They demanded, “What do you mean ? Are we not human ?”

The trustee replied, “Our old priest used to say that even animals know how to watch for their self-interest; they know how to avoid dangers, how to search food and so on. Only a ‘human being’ knows how to care for others. This young man not only thought about others but he cleared also the path so that no one would get hurt. So he qualifies as a ‘human being’ to be the successor of the great old priest.”

(10 – 11) : Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow :

Agriculture has always been celebrated as the primary sector in India. But the reality is that Indian farmers have to face extreme poverty and financial crisis, which is driving them to suicides. What are the grave adversities that drive the farmers to commit suicide at a time when Indian economy is supposed to be gearing up to take on the world ?

Indian agriculture is predominantly dependent on nature. Irrigation facilities that are currently available do not cover entire cultivable land. If the farmers are at the mercy of monsoons for timely water for their crops, they are at the mercy of the government for alternative irrigation facilities. Any failure of nature, directly affects the fortunes of the farmers.

Secondly, Indian agriculture is largely an unorganised sector. There is no systematic planning in cultivation. The farmers work on lands of uneconomical sizes. Institutional finances are not available and minimum purchase prices of government do not in reality reach the poorest farmers.

Added to this, the cost of agriculture inputs have been steadily rising over the years, farmers' margin of profits have been narrowing because the price rise in inputs is not complemented by an increase in the purchase price of the agricultural produce. Even today, in several parts of the country agriculture is seasonal occupation. In many districts, farmers get only one crop per year and for the remaining part of the year, they find it difficult to make both ends meet.

What then needs to be done to prevent this sad state of affairs ? There cannot be one single solution to end the woes of farmers. Temporary measures through monetary relief would not be the solution. The government efforts should be targeted at improving the entire structure of the small farmers wherein the relief is not given on a drought to drought basis, rather they are taught to overcome their difficulties through their own skills and capabilities. Social responsibilities also goes a long way to help the farmers. General public, NGOs, Corporate and other organizations too can play a part in helping farmers by adopting drought affected villages and families and helping them to rehabilitate.
